

IT ISN'T FUNNY!

Someone said you'd better not read the Bible in school...the Bible that says you shall not kill, you shall not steal, and love your neighbor as yourself. We said, "OK."

Dr. Benjamin Spock said we shouldn't spank our children when they misbehave because their little personalities would be warped and we might damage their self-esteem. (Dr. Spock's son committed suicide) and we said, "An expert should know what he's talking about," so we said "OK."

Someone said teachers and principals better not discipline our children when they misbehave. And the school administrators said no faculty member in this school had better touch a student when he or she misbehaves because we don't want any bad publicity and we surely don't want to be sued. (There's a big difference between disciplining and touching, beating, smacking, humiliating, kicking, etc.) We said, "OK."

Someone said, "Let's let our daughters have abortions if they want, and they won't even have to tell their parents." We said, "OK."

Some wise school board member said, "Since boys will be boys, and they're going to do it anyway, let's give our sons all the condoms they want. They can have all the fun they desire and "sow their oats", and we won't have to tell their parents they got them at school." We said, "OK."

Some of our top elected officials said "It doesn't matter what we do in private as long as we do our jobs." Agreeing with them, we said "It doesn't matter to me what anyone, including the President, does in private as long as I have a job and the economy is good."

Someone said, "Let's print magazines with pictures of nude women and call it wholesome, down-to-earth appreciation for the beauty of the human body." We said, "OK."

Someone else took that appreciation a step further, publishing pictures of nude children, and then stepped further still by making them available on the Internet. We said, "OK, they're entitled to their free speech."

Then, the entertainment industry said, "Let's make TV shows and movies that promote profanity, violence, and illicit sex. Let's record music that encourages rape, drugs, murder, suicide, satanic themes, and self-gratification." We said, "It's just entertainment. It has no adverse effects, and nobody takes it seriously anyway, so go right ahead."

Now we're asking ourselves why our children have no conscience, why they don't know right from wrong, and why it doesn't bother them to kill strangers, their classmates, and themselves. Probably, if we think about it long and hard enough, we can figure it out. I think it has a great deal to do with "WE REAP WHAT WE SOW."

"Dear God, why didn't you save the little girl that was killed in her classroom?" Sincerely, A

Concerned Student.

Dear Concerned Student, I am not allowed in schools.” Sincerely, God.

Isn't it funny how simple it is for people to trash God and then wonder why the world's going to hell.

Isn't it funny how we believe what the newspapers say but question what God's Word says; how everyone wants to go to heaven provided they don't have to believe, think, say, or do anything the Bible says.

Isn't it funny how someone can say, "I believe in God" but still follow Satan, who, by the way, also "believes" in God and trembles.

Isn't it funny how we are quick to judge but not to be judged.

Isn't it funny how you can send a thousand "jokes" through e-mail, and they spread like wildfire, but when you start sending messages regarding the Lord, people think twice about sharing.

Isn't it funny how the lewd, crude, vulgar, and obscene pass freely through cyberspace, but the public discussion of God is suppressed in the school and workplace.

Isn't it funny how someone can be so fired up for Christ on Sunday but be an invisible Christian the rest of the week.

Are you laughing?

Isn't it funny how, when you to forward this message, you will not send it to many on your address list because you're not sure what they believe, or what they will think of you for sending it to them. Isn't it funny how you can be more worried about what other people think of you than what God thinks of you.

Are you thinking?

Pass it on if you think it has merit. If not, then just disregard it. No one will know that you did. But if you disregard this thought process, then don't sit back and complain about what shape the world is in!
